

SOLDIERS PATROL CHICAGO STREETS

ESTABLISH BARRED ZONE ON SOUTH SIDE

Mayor Asks for Troops After Dickson Inspects District

BULLETIN.

Chicago, July 31.—Six thousand troops on duty with rifles and bayonets in the most densely populated quarters of Chicago and a light fall of rain had not stopped fighting between whites and negroes long after midnight today (Thursday), isolated groups shooting, looting and stabbing in places which the military had been unable to reach. The death list remained at thirty, none being reported killed last night.

Seven hundred have been injured during the four nights of rioting and a dozen of these may die.

Adjutant General Dickson, on returning from the placing of troops reported that snipers had fired on a company of soldiers on the way to Englewood. No one was injured. The general reported that after the troops had taken their stations, quiet prevailed in the patrolled areas.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Chicago streets tonight were patrolled by soldiers called out by Governor Lowden at the request of Mayor Thompson for the protection of life and property threatened by the race war which for days has terrorized the city.

Search Everybody for Weapons.
The state troops established a barred zone about three miles square embracing most of the colored residential district on the south side. In this zone they searched every person whom they met for weapons. No one was permitted in or out without military permission. The district extended roughly from Twenty Second street to 55th street north and south and from Michigan Boulevard to Wentworth avenue, east and west.

This happened when riots in the colored district itself had somewhat subsided but when there was an alarming spread of disturbances outside.

Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson after an early evening trip thru the threatened district declared that the situation was ominous and this view was shared by the mayor's secretary who accompanied him. Hundreds of negroes appealed for protection. Incendiary attacks upon negro homes increased thru the day and night. Negro leaders declared that many members of their race faced starvation because drivers of supply wagons feared to enter some portions of the black belt.

An immediate salutary effect was reported as the long lines of uniformed men bayonets glistening in the lamp light, tramped down the streets and took up positions. Looterers were dispersed with short, curt orders and the force behind the orders was evident.

Police Filled in Intervals.
Police filled in the intervals in the military cordon and searched every person on the streets for weapons.

Late tonight mobs of whites and negroes were reported roaming over various localities of the south side and at Fifty-Eighth street and Racine avenue negroes were said to have clashed with the troops. Negroes also were reported to have driven all whites from the streets in the vicinity of Sixty Third and Loomis streets, while fires were burning in two different neighborhoods, one in a white neighborhood and one in a colored colony. A woman was reported slain in a riot at Forty Seventh street and Indiana avenue.

Suspend Rates Effective Under Federal Control

WILSON TALKS WITH FOUR MORE G.O.P. SENATORS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 30.—Rates of the Western Union Telegraph company effective under federal control, which will expire August 1 by congressional statute are suspended until December 5th, in an order of the utilities commission announced here today. The federal rates constitute increases over the schedule in force before the government took over the wires.

Today's order was entered in response to an application of the Western Union company for authorization to keep the federal rates in effect when the state resumes jurisdiction August 1.

The law of congress says federal rates shall remain in force until four months after the wires revert to their original owners unless otherwise ordered by city, county or state direction. Company officials are said to hold that the utilities commission is powerless to suspend the federal rates without authorizing a schedule to supersede them.

Order Six Regiments Out.
The initial order directed the first, second, third, and fourth regiments of the Illinois Reserve Militia and the tenth and eleventh regiments of the Illinois National Guard to take up stations patrolling the city streets.

The first troops to move were six companies of the first regiment Illinois Reserve Militia who were ordered from the Seventh Regiment Armory to the Stanton avenue riot headquarters in the heart of the black belt.

Other companies of the first regiment were marched to Sixty Third street and Normal avenue, and Sixty Third and Racine avenue where a considerable number of negroes live and where there was an incipient riot Tuesday night.

Outbreaks Scattered.
Today outbreaks were widely scattered and only in a few instances were there more than a small number of persons involved in rioting. Of the four deaths, all of which were the result of shooting, two were shot today, the other two having been wounded in the rioting of Monday and Tuesday nights.

Tonight the official death list for four days showed 30, of whom 17 were negroes, two unidentified and 13 whites, one unidentified.

Attorney General Brandage upon his arrival from Michigan, assigned an assistant, John P. Burns to the attorney's office to sift the evidence to be produced at the trial. Mr. Brandage, who took charge of the prosecution following the East St. Louis riots a few years ago, declared punishment of the guilty here was certain.

Tell Executive Unreserved Ratification of Treaty Impossible

Views Not Changed.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The peace treaty with Germany was discussed by President Wilson today with four more Republican senators, all of them understood to be unwilling to accept the league of nations in its present form.

The question of including reservations in the senate's ratification of the treaty is understood to have been the chief topic of discussion, some of the president's callers telling him unreserved ratification was impossible and Mr. Wilson reiterating his aversion to any change or qualification which might re-open diplomatic negotiations. Each of the senators indicated afterward that his views had not changed.

In turn the president saw Senators Dillingham, Vermont; Harding, Ohio; Fernald, Maine, and Lenroot, Wisconsin. He talked for an hour with each. None would discuss his conversation with the president in detail.

Senator Harding, who is a member of the foreign relations committee, said Mr. Wilson had emphasized the possibility that senate reservations might encourage other nations to qualify their acceptance of the league.

May Contest French Treaty.
Both the senate and the committee had recessed over today and many senators went over for the first time the official text of the special defensive treaty with France, submitted for ratification yesterday by President Wilson.

It became apparent that the treaty's ratification would be bitterly contested.

Two objections about which debate is expected to center are that the treaty departs from the tradition of no entangling alliances and that it violates the constitutional provision that congress alone can declare war. Those who base their opposition on the latter declared that because of the promise to go to the aid of France immediately in case of unprovoked attack on her from Germany, they were deprived of their power to decide for war or peace whenever the treaty terms were invoked.

To this administration leaders reply that the United States has made similar promises to go to war under certain circumstances in the past, citing the treaty by which this country guaranteed Panama's independence and the Monroe Doctrine.

ORDER FAVORABLE REPORTS ON BILLS

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Favorable reports on bills authorizing the appointment of General John J. Pershing and Peyton C. March, chief of staff, to the permanent rank of general were ordered today by the house military committee.

Federal Wire Control To End Tonight

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Government control of telegraph and telephone properties will end at midnight tomorrow night. Orders for their return to private owners were issued today by Postmaster General Burleson as required under a resolution adopted by congress and signed by President Wilson ten days ago.

Mr. Burleson in a statement said sound public opinion ultimately would determine "how this trust has been met" and that he was content to abide by the result. Besides this reply to criticisms of his management of the wire companies the postmaster general took a parting shot at the Postal Telegraph company, most of the officers of which were removed, because of what he termed interference with government management.

The postmaster general did not mention the company by name, but said that "with one notable exception, the reason for which is thoroughly understood by those who have kept informed" every wire company had given him loyal cooperation.

Under the resolution of congress directing the return of the companies, government fixed intra-state telephone rates are to remain in force four months, unless sooner changed by state commissions but no provision was made as to telegraph rates. Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph company, is urging congress to provide for speedy return of the properties said his company could reduce rates 20 per cent and still earn a profit.

This statement was recalled today in connection with the return of the properties and a rate war between the telegraph companies was viewed in some quarters as a possibility. Telegraph rates were increased approximately 20 per cent last month to meet increased salaries of operators and other employees and rising cost of materials.

WILL ATTEMPT TO FORMULATE POLICY

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Formulation of definite policy as to legislation modifying various provisions of the war revenue act of 1918 against which protests have been received from over the country will be discussed tomorrow by the senate finance committee.

The call for the meeting was issued by Chairman Penrose today following hearings on house bills repealing the soda water tax and substituting a tax of two cents a gallon on fruit juice beverages for the present ten per cent gross sales tax.

In addition two bills now pending, which certain Republican senators regard as "open-end" legislation, proposals have been made in the house looking to the repeal of the excise taxes especially those relating to imports on candy, sporting goods and furs.

HELFERICH TO SUE ERZBERGER

BERLIN, Tuesday, July 29.—By the Associated Press.—Dr. Karl Helfferich the vice-chancellor, announced today that he had failed to induce Matthias Erzberger to sue him, he will enter suit against Erzberger "to prove him a liar and traitor and bring the truth to light."

Blames Kaiser For Decision to Hold Belgium

BERLIN, Tuesday, July 29.—By The Associated Press.—Responsibility for the crown council's decision in 1917 that Belgium territory must be held was placed upon the former German emperor by General Ludendorff in a communication published today by the Deutsche Tages Zeitung.

Kaiser Decided Question.
General Ludendorff's letter said that great headquarters merely sketched the military situation and stated what measures they believed necessary to protect Germany's west frontier in an economic way. The former German emperor General Ludendorff said, decided the question and his decision was binding upon military headquarters.

Premier Batten and Dr. Herman Mueller, foreign minister were condemned by General Ludendorff for their statements in the German national assembly at Weimar on Monday criticizing the crown council's actions and making public reports of Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff, advising the retention and military occupation of the Liege district. General Ludendorff inquired where Dr. Mueller obtained the military information concerning great headquarters.

An outline of what military authorities were said to have considered the necessary "economic unity" with Belgium, also was published by the National Zeitung.

Wanted to Control Taxation.
This outline according to the newspaper contemplated the extension of the German customs system to Belgium the levying of imperial taxes on monopolies there, obligating Belgium to accept German control of Belgium taxation, trade representation and the division of the income tax. It suggested also an agreement for the equality of citizens of Germany and Belgium and various regulations regarding shipping, land and industrial questions.

German shipping, according to the published economic outline would be given rights in the harbor of Antwerp; Belgium would adopt the German monetary system; all damage claims against Germany would be annulled; Germany would take over the Belgian railroads and the German workmen's protection insurance law would be introduced in Belgium.

EMERSON KILLS SELF BY HANGING

KELLERTON, Iowa, July 30.—Roy Emerson, of Creston, Ia., reportedly of murdering his mother early this morning escaped guards who were taking him to the Ringgold county jail at Mount Ayr, and committed suicide by hanging himself under a highway bridge, two miles northeast of here. He used his belt and a piece of barbed wire for a rope.

Emerson, accused of beating his mother to death with an iron brace and throwing her body down an elevator shaft in their undertaking establishment at Creston, last May was convicted of second degree murder at Mount Ayr on July 19. A few days later he was released on $15,000 bail pending appeal of his case to the supreme court.

KING RECEIVES MARSHAL FOCH

LONDON, July 30.—King George received Marshal Foch today and conferred upon him the rank of field marshal of the British army.

MUST LOWER LIVING COST OR RAISE WAGES

Locomotive Engineers Present Problem to President

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The alternative of governmental action to force down the cost of living or of demand by the railroad engineers of the country for another increase in wages was presented to President Wilson today by Warren A. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and members of the brotherhood's advisory board.

Detailing conclusions reached by the advisory board at its recent meeting in Cleveland, Mr. Stone in a prepared statement read to the president declared that while the railroad engineers found themselves "obliged to again request an increase to meet the mounting cost of living" they were of the opinion that "the true remedy for the situation and one that will result in lifting the burden under which the whole people are struggling is for the government to take some adequate measures to reduce the cost of the necessities of life to a figure that the present wages and income of the people will meet."

The brotherhood board outlined no plan of action for the government to take beyond saying it was believed that this situation was brought about mainly by conscienceless profiteering by the great interests who have secured control of all the necessities of life.

President Wilson it was said at the white house after the conference which lasted half an hour was much impressed with the statement presented and promised to give serious consideration and study to the question of what the government might be able to do. Previous to their conference with the president the brotherhood officials conferred with Director General Hines who expressed sympathy with their request that government action be taken to lower living costs.

The president was told by the brotherhood board "that a widespread spirit of unrest exists in all classes, especially among wage earners whose wages will no longer provide adequate food, shelter and rainfall for themselves and families."

FRANCE MAY DELAY ACTION ON TREATY

PARIS, July 30.—(By The Associated Press).—A disposition to delay final action on ratification of the German peace treaty until the United States senate acts on the Franco-American treaty was indicated today by those in touch with the situation, to represent the majority view of the chamber of deputies' peace treaty committee. Former Premier Rene Viviani, chairman of the committee expressed the opinion that execution of the treaty would be completed in time for it to be discussed in the chamber about August 11. Debate on it, it was said, probably would continue for three weeks in the chamber, and the senate, so that a vote might be taken by the end of August, unless as suggested, action should be delayed pending the United States senate's action on the Franco-American treaty.

REPORT BOLSHIEVISM SPREADS IN BULGARIA

LONDON, July 30.—Reports from Bulgaria by way of Berlin declare that bolshevism is spreading in that country, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today. Several demonstrations have occurred in the larger towns, accompanied by disorders and considerable bloodshed, the message declares.

The soviet system of government is demanded, it is added, and a general revolution is momentarily expected.

A Russian soviet government wireless dispatch from Moscow on Tuesday reported a bolshevik movement in Bulgaria. The garison of one town was said to have joined the "Bulgarian bolshevik" there. A strike of the Bulgarian railway and transport workers also was reported.

Postmasters to Sell Surplus Army Food

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Thru the postmasters of the country the war department tomorrow will offer direct to consumers its present available supply of surplus foodstuffs amounting to approximately 341,000,000 pounds. This surplus, consisting of canned vegetables and meats, is expected to be sold within a week at prices representing the cost to the government plus postage.

Arrangements for the sale of the foodstuffs, directed by a resolution passed yesterday by the house, were made today at a conference held by Secretary Baker with postoffice department officials and Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania, author of the resolution.

Secretary Baker said a price list covering the entire available surplus would be prepared at once by Assistant Secretary Crowell. The list it was said at the postoffice department would be sent out to each of the 54,000 postmasters of the country and to every rural route carrier.

The postmasters and carriers under arrangements made at the conference will act as government salesmen, informing interested consumers of the prices and methods of sale and taking orders for the foodstuffs.

CUMMINGS CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, discussed with President Wilson today the political outlook for 1920 and the attitude of the country toward the peace treaty and the league of nations, describing his observations during his recent two months' trip thru fourteen western states.

The conference was the first the national chairman has had with the president since last December. Mr. Cummings refused to discuss the possibility of Mr. Wilson leading his party in the 1920 election and would not affirm or deny that this subject was broached during the conference.

Chairman Cummings said he told the president the country was overwhelmingly in favor of immediate ratification of the treaty and its league of nations covenant without change or reservation.

As to the political situation Mr. Cummings was understood to have been emphatically confident.

The president is said to have outlined to Mr. Cummings the tentative itinerary of the trip he will take thru the country to give the people an account of his stewardship at Paris.

In no state he visited Mr. Cummings informed the president, did he find a majority of the people opposed to the league of nations. On the contrary he said, if the people had an opportunity to vote on the question today a ten to one majority would be given in favor of immediate ratification of the league and covenant without change or reservation.

RECOMMEND CHANGES IN ARTICLES OF WAR

WASHINGTON, July 30.—One new article of war and changes in thirty others have been recommended by the special board of officers appointed early in the war to investigate the army court martial system. In making this announcement today, Secretary Baker said he soon would transmit the board's report to congress.

"It may be said," Mr. Baker's announcement said, "that the board upon the whole finds no radical defects in the system and it attributes the greater part of the just criticisms not to inherent faults of the system itself, but rather to the inexperienced personnel called upon to administer it at a time of stress when the great thing was to get four million men quickly in shape for the fighting line."

MOVE TO END CAR STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Agree to Submit Rejected Compromise Friday Night

CHICAGO, July 30.—A move to end the street car strike that has paralyzed both surface and elevated cars for two days, was made today in the form of a conference participated in by Governor Lowden, L. A. Busby, president of the surface lines, Britten I. Budd, president of the elevated roads and William D. Mahon, international president of the Street Car Men's Union. The conference agreed to submit to the union men a referendum Friday night the proposition which they rejected at a meeting Monday.

Offered Eight Hour Day.
At the Monday meeting both needs of the companies and union officials have been charged, radicals dominated and prevented the rank and file from calmly expressing their best judgment. The proposition which had been formulated in conferences of union leaders, street railway heads and members of the public utilities commission offered an eight hour day, time and one half for overtime, and a maximum wage of 65 cents an hour for surface men and 67 cents for elevated men. There are 15,000 car men and 4,000 of them attended the Monday meeting.

Unless some means is found to get the workers back on the cars pending their final decisions on the proposition Chicago faces at least two more days of the strike. A referendum if taken Friday and results favorably to the acceptance of the proposition probably would be completed in time to start cars Saturday morning.

In the meantime thousands of Chicagoans must walk long distances and other thousands pay toll to the "bus men" who have jumped at the profits to be made by operating automobiles and trucks. All of the leaders involved appear anxious to see a resumption of car service. After their conference today several statements were issued.

"In my opinion the agreement made was altogether fair," said Governor Lowden in his statement referring to the hour and wage proposition.

Agree to Hold Offer Open.

President Busby said the road's management had agreed to hold open the offer until the men could take a referendum vote.

President Mahon, of the international union, stated he would urge the executive committee to make arrangements for the referendum.

The second day of the strike saw 400 business men on duty as traffic officers filling the deserted posts of the traffic policemen who have been on race riot duty. The streets were congested with motor traffic. The steam roads continued to operate extra cars and trains. Business for the most part went on as usual.

The downtown district probably never saw such congestion as that of the two days of the car strike. The great stores and other business within the elevated railroad loop have been rushed with business. No serious accident has marked the strike.

The federal internal revenue bureau started today to checking up the improvised bus operators. Motor vehicles for hire carrying more than ten persons are required to be taxed $7 annually and those of capacity of more are scheduled for a tax of $10.

Of all the city editorial writers who continue to comment on wet and dry affairs, none other seems so genuinely peeved as Mr. Collier, who writes "Echoes of the Streets" for the St. Louis Globe. In his column Mr. Collier daily has two or three references to the prohibition movement, all colored by the thought and feeling of a man who is out of sympathy with the whole program.

ONE MEAL A DAY.

When one talks of living conditions in cities and the high cost of living as it applies both to the well to do and those in poor circumstances, it is well to consider the statement made not long since by a local nurse. This young woman comes into contact with many of the poor families of Jacksonville.

It is her statement that in this city there are today many families where one meal a day is served to children. She testifies that this is the regular program—just one meal a day and that often not providing a diet of a really nutritious kind. If that condition is true here in a city like Jacksonville, what must the conditions be in the tenement districts of the larger cities?

No wonder there are children who make poor records in the schools because they are not properly nourished. No wonder there are boys and girls who gradually drift into the paths of crime and wrongdoing. Only one meal a day for some children in a well-to-do, orderly, home-loving community like this. It is worth thinking about and then determining what can be done.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE.

The board of education at its recent meeting was confronted with the question of how to erect a high school building costing approximately $350,000 with an immediate available fund of about $200,000. The additional money can be accumulated thru a special tax running thru three or four years, or the needed funds in addition may be raised by a bond issue if the people approve.

Then there is the question of postponing construction in the hope that the cost of materials will be reduced in the course of the next year. It has been suggested that it would be entirely proper to take these questions to the people and let them thus record their advice to the board of education. It is well suggested. The people are paying for the high school. It is their children who are to be educated and why should they not give expression their opinion on the important questions which now confront the board? It is, after all, the people's business and the people can be trusted to give the right decisions.

THE FRENCH TREATY.

(Globe-Democrat)

When the proposed treaty with France was made public on the 3d of July the Globe-Democrat said that "there should be strong and convincing reasons for such a compact if it is to be entered into, even temporarily." We are unable to find such reasons in the treaty itself, although it bears an explanatory preamble, nor in the words of President Wilson with which he accompanied the copy of the treaty transmitted to the Senate yesterday. It is to be admitted, as we said before, that we incur obligations under the treaty of Versailles that morally bind us to its fulfillment. These are obligations assumed by every nation signatory to the treaty. But the French compact seeks to bind us, as it has already bound Great Britain, to a special and specific contract for the protection of France in case of "any unprovoked act of aggression directed against her by Germany." This agreement is based upon three articles of the treaty of Versailles, one of which prohibits Germany from maintaining or building fortifications within fifty kilometers of the right bank of the Rhine, another prohibiting the maintenance or assembly of armed forces by Germany, and the third declaring the violation of either of these stipulations a hostile act against the powers signatory to the treaty. But the obligation proposed to be assumed under this supplementary treaty is not limited to acts in violation of these articles. It requires us to come to the immediate assistance of France in case of "any act of unprovoked aggression." It is provided that this treaty shall be subject to the approval of the Council of the League of Nations, and may be terminated by a majority vote of the council upon application of any one of the parties to the agreement.

President Wilson's plea in behalf of this arrangement is not persuasive. He gives no concrete reasons for its approval. He bases his appeal upon "our debt to France." We deny that we owe any debt to France. If our participation in the war did not cancel our former indebtedness to that country then we are unable to see how it would be possible to pay an international obligation in reciprocal service. We have a great friendship for France, we have a great sympathy for France, and we would willingly do all that we can, consistent with our own welfare, to protect her and to preserve our friendship. But as to obligations, one to the other. We believe that we now stand on equal terms. Nor can we see that our obligations under the treaty of Versailles require us to enter into such an agreement. The fulfillment of that treaty seems to be sufficiently secured in the terms of that document itself, which creates machinery for its enforcement and provides for the general protection of France thru the operation of the League of Nations. It is true enough that some time will elapse before that organization is fully operative, but it is also true that some time—a considerable time, we think—will elapse before Germany is able to undertake any hostile acts against France.

That being the case there is, of course, very little probability that we should be called upon to take any action under this treaty, if it is merely, as Mr. Wilson says, "intended as a temporary" supplement to the treaty of Versailles. Apparently it is designed only to quiet the fears of France, a mere gesture of friendly assurance. But nevertheless it is a treaty, and it would bind us to specific, individual and immediate military action. There is a vast difference between such an alliance as this and the Society of Nations. This is a triple alliance for the purposes of war; the league is a general and practically universal alliance for the prevention of war. The obligation of the League of Nations should be sufficient to insure France from attack, and we think it will be difficult to convince the American people that either friendship or interest justifies our entering this supplementary agreement.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

CARS AND CARS

I have a large and costly car, upholstered in the richest plush; and when I wish to jaunt afar, I ought to get there with a rush. It truly is a gorgeous boat, and should with ease my person haul; the man who sold it sprained his throat explaining how it beats them all. But every time I take it out, it gives me naught but grief and toil; the carburetor has the gout, a cylinder starts pumping oil. And while in agony I try to find what makes its works complain, the cheap tin cars go whizzing by, their drivers grinning with disdain. My tumbler cost 4.00 a bone, and every time I'd drive she quits; she coughs and backfires, heaves and groans, and throws a hundred kind of fits. And always when she sheds a sigh, and leaves me stranded far from home, the cheap tin cars go whizzing by, and kick up gravel, dust and loam. I'm often stalled; it is my fate to have a car that will not run; and all the cheap cars in the state whiz by, and have all kinds of fun. With patience I could bear my load, and make some showing, too, of glee, if I were stuck upon the road, and there was no one else to see; but when I feel the motor die, and know I'm stalled for half a day, the cheap tin cars go whizzing by, so insolently blithe and gay!

VIRDEN TEAM TRIES TO HOLD UP SMITH

Make Demand for Guarantee of $80 to Play Game Sunday—Manager Smith Refuses to Fall for It.

Wednesday Manager Frank Smith of the Indies received a letter from the manager of the Virden team asking for an $80 guarantee to play the Indies here Sunday.

Virden came here before for $60 and the game for Sunday had been booked on the same basis. Messrs. Cruise and Smith are under heavy expense and while they are anxious to give the fans the best possible game, they are out of the question to guarantee any team $80 to play here.

Manager Smith says that none of the teams that come here will make any more than a guarantee of expenses for the Indies to visit their home towns. For that reason he does not feel that they are justified in demanding any such a sum.

Manager Smith has the Pekin Socials for a game next Sunday. This team has been here before and always put up a good exhibition. Fans may rest assured that they will see a good game between the Indies and the Pekin aggregation.

A practice game will be played between the Indies and the Jacksonville All Stars, the crack local colored team. Nearly all of the members of the team who have been in service are home again and will furnish the Indies with some real practice.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

SOME CHANGES.

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

The "kids" of today can form small conception of what the "Bubs" and "Sissies" of sixty or more years ago in Jacksonville had to do.

To Begin With.
In the earlier days "going to market" meant only going to the butcher shops which opened at five o'clock in the morning and closed about noon. This was the custom because so much beef, mutton or fresh pork was not then eaten and because the shops did not have ice or refrigeration rooms in which to preserve the meat. So it came about that boys, if not girls, would be routed out of bed at five or six o'clock in the morning and sent "to market" for the breakfast or dinner meats. It was important to be there early in order to get the best selections of the food. Summer or winter this trip was hard enough on the youngsters—the further off they lived the harder it was. Boys often went on horseback. There are plenty of old boys still here who can tell how they hated "going for things" down town.

General Shopping.
Then there were the things to be gotten from the stores, before the days of delivery wagons—and that means mostly before the Civil War and about as late as its end, in 1865.

For a boy of nine to fifteen years of age, it was no bliss or delight to have to go "down town" or "run town" one to four or five times a day for household necessities from eatables to cheap articles from the dry goods stores, or to get things mended at tin or blacksmith shops. Then to carry a heavy basket from half a mile to a mile or more, especially in very warm or very cold weather, was no luxury. A child would be sent to the Square for butter, eggs, bread or chickens most frequently and often had to go around the Square to all stores selling those things, before getting what they were sent for, sometimes not getting them. They often got scolded at home by inconsiderate parents or others for such failures for which they were not to blame, of course. Sometimes the goods were not satisfactory, so the young purveyors soon learned to make good selections and this was really a good thing for them in after life.

of this custom was that children were often kept from school to do these errands and they got in trouble there for being tardy or absent and got behind in their studies. Here again they might be blamed both by teachers and parents. It is much easier, generally, for all of us to blame than to commend. It happened sometimes that younger boys were better than their older brothers in doing the family errands.

The merchants could not keep supplied with country produce and some of them were pretty crusty when the young customers kept coming to the door for what was not to be had.

"Got any butter?"
"Not!"
"Chickens?"
"Not!"
"Eggs?"
"Not!"

Prices

Things were plenty cheap in those "halcyon days of youth." Butter eight to fifteen cents per pound. Eggs five or ten cents a dozen. Chickens fifteen each or two for a quarter. Turkeys way down. Sometimes wild pigeons, or even prairie chickens were to be had. As they made their own living they were very cheap. The stores kept hams and bacon which were neither sold in slices or hotted, but whole, as to hams, an in "sides" of bacon. Maple sugar was apt to be in stock in the spring.

It was a virtuous boy who could carry home loaves of bread without digging holes into the ends of them, as he poked along homeward.

Wild blackberries and plums used to be sold in the stores, and comb honey. This latter would be kept by the merchant in new tubs and sold for, probably, five or ten cents per pound. Pennies were not generally used then. Very few goods, even those shipped in from great distances, were sold in nice "tins" or other packages. Among the first things to be sold in tin cans was baking powder.

Tobacco was first sold in long plugs—sometimes six or eight inches long and two or three inches wide by half an inch thick. "Fine cut" first appeared in packages and then nice little plugs came on the market. Not many cigars were sold in the early days and no cigarettes. Some men raised a little tobacco for their own use, which they cured crudely. Smoking tobacco was sold in bulk or in packages.

"In many ways things have changed considerably."

THE OLDEST SERVICE TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS IN AMERICA

The Liberty Six

Country roads are the real proving grounds of car quality. It is the continuous road tests to which cars are submitted by those who drive a great deal in the country that demonstrates the stamina and endurance which are vital in establishing its good reputation.

After it once proves that it has the necessary "intestinal" qualities, such a car becomes all the more desirable among buyers who appreciate its other virtues, and at the same time it establishes for itself a steady market in the rural districts.

The Liberty, for instance, is known for its many important refinements and a decided riding and driving difference. It was these qualities which first caught the fancy of city motorists.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous,
Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Tiredness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to ailed nerves. People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind, vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bioferen every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded; the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bioferen is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on

After eighteen months of strenuous work for Uncle Sam, Clarence Wolke at last has been permitted to return home. For the past year the government has relied upon him in the overhauling and repair of Liberty airplane motors. Stationed at the largest motor repair shop in France, Clarence turned out his work with a speed and exactness that surprised the experts.

Although always a mechanic, Clarence has gained such valuable experience abroad that he would not part with it for thousands of dollars. And now that he is back you will have the rare opportunity of his services for your own motor troubles. We are fortunate enough to have him stationed with us and you could not find a more convenient place to leave your car while having it overhauled. THE CRAWFORD ADAMS COMPANY.

Crawford Adams, known to the people of Jacksonville as Elmer C. Adams, nephew of Prof. Stafford, is again playing his violin over the Chautauqua route. His company this year is made up of two girls and himself. All are geniuses and American thru and thru. Crawford Adams is entirely an American institution. Kubelik once heard him play. "Great Technique" he commented. "All he lacks is a foreign name." That was several years ago. Since then the great Bohemian violinist has himself, gone under, because Miss Elman came out of Russia to charm us. In turn only a year ago, Elman and Kubelik went together to hear an unknown lad play in Carnegie Hall, New York. Neither could speak as they listened to the playing of the New Master. Heilitz. So one European celebrity after another sensationally plays upon our emotions.

All the time we know perfectly well that there are dozens of great fiddlers who are plain Americans, and who never studied outside their own country. We know they are artists and we know now that the War has made us appreciate and understand them better.

Get ready to laugh when the Crawford Adams Company comes to the chautauqua. Roseth Knapp Breed, Boston's woman humorist, is again with the company. "Nuff said!" If you have never heard her you have a treat coming. If you have heard her you know how funny she has been in the past. Take this tip—her new program is said to be funnier than ever which have preceded it, which means that a new record of laughs per minute is going to be hung up at the chautauqua when she appears.

TOBACCO HABIT DANGEROUS

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Drugstore refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Dr. Cannon soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result.—Adv.

CHILD WELFARE TRUCK ENDS WORK IN COUNTY

Experts in Charge of Special Will Leave Saturday for Greene County—Pleased at Outcome of Campaign in this County.

The Child Welfare Truck Special has finished the tour of the county and on Saturday will leave for Greene county, where a similar tour will be made. Dr. McGuire and Mrs. McCabe, the experts in charge of the truck, arrived in this city Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, and will be here until Saturday. Both expressed themselves as greatly pleased at the outcome of the campaign in this county, and stated that at each place visited the people proved themselves thoroughly in accord with the movement inaugurated by the Federal Children's bureau. Parents and physicians co-operated in a way which made the task of examining the children an easy one. Teachers also rendered valuable aid in the work by bringing their pupils with them to the various conferences.

In each of the eight precincts visited the precinct chairman took an active interest and did all in their power to facilitate the work. In some instances these chairmen spent the entire day at the conferences. Dr. Schnell of the state board of health, children's hygiene division, was in Chapin two days to observe the work of the conferences and Dr. Anne E. Rude, director of the division of hygiene of the Children's Bureau, came from Washington, D. C., to observe the work of the truck on this, its initial trip.

That Morgan county is thoroughly cognizant of the importance of child welfare work was clearly demonstrated during the recent tour. The important thing now is for the County Community council to so maintain its organization in the various precincts that the interest already aroused may continue and increase. The two reel picture, "Our Children," shown at the Rialto theatre Wednesday afternoon and night clearly showed the need for just such work as the Federal Children's bureau is now carrying on. The pictures are taken from actual life in Alabama, and indicate both the need of the work and the results which follow it. The picture was witnessed by a great many local people and all were enthusiastic in its praise.

ON VACATION TRIP
Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Marbach left last night for Chicago. They will proceed to Winona Lake with a party of friends to spend two weeks and then will be with relatives in Chicago. They expect to be gone during the month of August.

An Engine Built for Service

A Motor Truck Engine has no easy task to perform. Most of the time it works under a pull. Its load is often increased suddenly and tremendously by road conditions. Every hill, no matter how short, every roughness of the road, compels it to extra effort. These sudden changes in the load would test the quality of the engine even if it were bolted low into a solid foundation. Consider then, the quality that must be built into an engine that gives good service day in and day out for many years while bumping along on solid tires over all kinds of streets and roads. International Motor Truck engines have just that kind of service built into them. Note the simple, sturdy appearance of the engine shown above.

Lubrication is handled by an efficient constant pressure feed system, of a kind found only on high grade, expensive engines. It wastes no oil, yet every bearing gets its full share. Working parts are protected to keep out all dust, dirt and grit.

The International engine develops ample power for any work the truck is sold to do. It is a feature of the truck, yet it is but one of many features, equally good, which have secured for International Motor Trucks a reputation to be proud of. Come in and let us show you in detail how well every part of an International is built to give its owner real motor service. There is a size and style of International Motor Truck to meet practically every hauling requirement.

Gleaners Class of Ebenezer Held Meeting.
The Gleaners Class of Ebenezer church met with Miss Myra Kirkpatrick at her home, 221 Webster avenue Wednesday afternoon. Owing to this being such a busy season on the farm there was only a fair attendance. A brief business session was held which was followed by a short program. A social hour was then had and the hostess served refreshments.

Past Pocahontas Club Entertained by Mrs. Larson.
Mrs. Alfred Larson of South Clay avenue entertained the Past Pocahontas club of Minnetonka council No. 71 Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance and following the business session a social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. George Hoover of East College street, the date to be announced later.

Breakfast Kitchen Shower for Miss Rogerson.

Chapin S. S. Class Spends Tuesday at Nichols Park.
The Sunbeam class of the Chapin Christian Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at the park Tuesday. The day was spent in various games and amusements of the park. At noon a bounteous dinner was served which the hungry party did ample justice to.

Miss Ruth Funk is teacher of this merry bunch of girls and this is their second annual picnic at the park. Those present were: Misses Ruth Funk, Helen Sidles, Mildred Bridgman, Flo Smith, Joan Simpson, Kathryn Frye, Doris Anderson, Gladys Hamilton, Merle Gray, Lucille Baker, Marie Grady, Thelma Brownlow, Lee Lear and Ina Vaniter.

Orleans Country Club Met With Mrs. Holmes.

Members of the Orleans Country club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. Holmes. The attendance was good, considering the warm weather and the busy season. Following the business session came a brief program. A paper presented by Mrs. Margaret Colwell on "What Man Has Risked in the Interest of Science" proved most interesting and was followed by a lengthy discussion by the members present. Among other things which Mrs. Colwell mentioned in her paper was the work of the great scientist, Audubon, telling many things not generally known about this man. Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen, the president of the club, appeared on the program in the place of a member who was unable to be present. Mrs. Hinrichsen read a speech delivered by her daughter, Miss Annie Hinrichsen, in Taylorville before the 21st district federation of woman's clubs. This proved most informing as it gave details about state charity work in a very clear and simple way. At the close of the program came a social time and the hostess served delicious refreshments. It was announced that the next meeting will be held with Mrs. Clark Stevenson in the Orleans neighborhood on August 5, and that the meeting of August 19 has been abandoned because of the Jacksonville chautauqua.

MISS BLACKBURN GOES FOR WORK IN BULGARIA

Returns to Missionary Field After Stay of Four Years at Home as Result of War Conditions—Became Missionary in 1892.

Miss Kate Blackburn left last night for Chicago on the way to New York, expecting to sail in the course of a few days for Bulgaria to resume her work in the school for girls at Lovech. Miss Blackburn has been in the U. S., and at the home of her father in the Ebenezer neighborhood since 1915. She returned to the U. S. at the time because of the European war, Bulgaria at that time was maintaining neutrality but the situation was such that it seemed advisable to the authorities for Americans in Lovech to return to the U. S. The work of the school, however, was continued until just about a year ago by native workers.

Recently it was determined to reopen the school and the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist church made an urgent request for Miss Blackburn and her assistant, Miss Dora Davis of Kalamazoo, Mich., to return to the foreign field. Altho Miss Blackburn was reluctant to leave her aged father she feels the call of duty and so is returning to the land where she has spent so many useful years in educational work of a missionary kind.

It was in 1892 that Miss Blackburn first went to the school in Bulgaria, and she has continued in the work there during all the period up to 1915, except for comparatively brief furlough trips. During the period from 1892 to 1915 Miss Blackburn has made five trips to Bulgaria. The two American women will sail from New York on the ship Canada of the Fabre line and will go direct to the port of Athens. Then they expect to take ship for Constantinople and in due course of time will arrive at their destination in Lovech.

The difficulties under which the school has been operating in recent years are well evidenced by the fact that a fund of $4,000 sent by the mission board two years ago for school expenses has not yet reached its destination.

It was only a few weeks ago that Miss Blackburn was able to get a letter thru to Lovech after a two year period. The Morgan county young woman was for several years prior to 1915 principal of the school, or known as directress over there, and she will return to the duties of that position. Thru all the long period of missionary work Miss Blackburn has devoted herself unsparringly to the task and undoubtedly her influence has resulted in a vast amount of good in her chosen field of endeavor.

Wednesday evening a number of friends of Miss Blackburn from both Ebenezer and Jacksonville gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Blackburn on North Church street to say farewell. Many of them afterward accompanied her to the Wabash train. While the company was assembled Mrs. A. E. Williamson, representative in the missionary society of Ebenezer church with appropriate words presented Miss Blackburn with a handsome gold pin. The recipient greatly appreciated this token of esteem and expressed her thanks in an appropriate way.

Best Treatment for Catarrh S.S.S. Removes the Cause

By Purifying the Blood

Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long standing case, be sure to write for free expert medical advice. We will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. We will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from catarrh, after consistent treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to perfect health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. CAPT. SWALES HAS LIVED THRU MANY YEARS

Well Known Citizen Today Will Celebrate Seventy Ninth Birthday—A Notable Career—Still Active After Years of Service.

Today marks the seventy ninth birthday anniversary of one of the foremost citizens of Jacksonville, Capt. J. M. Swales. It was seventy nine years ago that Capt. Swales was first seen and heard in Jacksonville and certainly a resident who has been here for nearly four score years is entitled to honors as an old settler. The family home at the time the captain (he did not have the rank at that time) arrived was on South West street just a short distance south of the present Y. M. C. A. building.

Capt. Swales' father's name was James Swales and as a young man he came in the early '30s from Leeds, Yorkshire, Eng. At the time the elder Swales arrived in Illinois, Chicago was simply a trading post and land was accounted almost worthless there as it was wet and marshy. Unfortunately Mr. Swales did not stake out a claim or buy any land in the present loop district of the great metropolis.

No Early Schooling. In making reference to the early life of a citizen one usual phrase is, "and he attended the public schools and afterward went to an academy or college prominent in that day." Not so in the case of Capt. Swales, for the fact is that he never attended school six months in his life. That fortunately, does not seem to have interfered with his education for from very necessity he acquired some education thru reading and private study, and this bit of educational work was largely supplemented in the school of experience, in which the captain has taken several degrees altho he cannot display a framed diploma.

When he was twenty years of age the stirring days of the Civil war came and he enlisted with the first group of young men from Morgan county in August, '61, in Co. A of the 14th regiment. Capt. Swales well remembers that he went to Central park for enlistment at the old court house which stood somewhat to the southwest of the site of the proposed soldiers' monument.

This regiment was one of the first six companies called out by President Lincoln, about one-half of the men coming from Jacksonville and one-half from Merced, Cal. They served first under Capt. M. F. Wood and went from Jacksonville direct to Cairo, There they did garrison duty guarding the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, then accounted a very important point. Following several months' service they went down the river to New Madrid, Mo., and afterward were taken up the Ohio to Tennessee and on to Shiloh. They had part in the memorable siege of Corinth, which culminated in May, 1862, the regiment being the first to reach that point.

The Nashville Campaign. From Corinth they entered upon the Nashville campaign which ran from the September of 1862 until the following spring. Their activities were with the army of the Cumberland all about Chattanooga, Chickamauga Park and other points throughout until the fall of '63. Then they had a conspicuous part in the battle of Missionary Ridge and Lookout Mountain, one of the most notable in military history, coming to its victorious close for the union on Nov. 24, 1863.

Thence the regiment was hurried forward to the relief of Burnside at Knoxville. The men were in rags and tatters. The weather was extremely cold. They were so poorly shod that the roads were often marked with blood from the foot-sore half-shod soldiers. It was Valley Forge over again, but the spirit of the men was undaunted. They returned to Rossville, Ga., in January, 1864, and then shortly afterward, having thus completed the term of their three year enlistment, were listed for the war. The troops were returned to Rossville and prepared for the Atlanta campaign which began in June, 1864. There was one battle after another which carried the troops clear up to the gates of Atlanta and as old soldiers have often said, "hell was popping in those days."

The Horrors of Andersonville. About August 4, 1864, the fighting days of Capt. Swales came to a sudden end as he and about fifty of his comrades while on scouting duty were captured by the boys in gray. The Jacksonville soldier was at that time a first sergeant. The day following the men, loaded as passengers into cattle cars, were taken to Andersonville. The curtain has always been drawn as to the exact happenings of the nine months during which Capt. Swales was a prisoner in that terrible stockade, subject to the barbarity of Capt. Henry Wirz, in charge of the prison. To this day Capt. Swales dislikes to talk about those days or to recall the exact happenings. There was too much of horror about it all. The suffering and the dreariness and darkness of those days constitute memories that Capt. Swales has been all the years trying in vain to crowd out.

As a prisoner he entered the stockade weighing 185 pounds and when he was released a few days following the assassination of President Lincoln and taken to Macon, Ga., he weighed 72 pounds. The starved, broken soldier was a mere shadow of his former self, but his spirit was unchanged and so he found genuine satisfaction in viewing Jefferson Davis a prisoner at Macon, Ga. Then a few days later at Washington the broken soldier had the great pleasure of watching the grand review—and there has been no more sublime spectacle in the national capital.

Shortly afterward Capt. Swales was sent to Benton Barracks at St. Louis, then to Springfield where he received his discharge. After regaining his health Capt. Swales for five years served in the Illinois National Guard, one of his comrades in the organization being Major C. E. McDougall. After a period of rest and recuperation Capt. Swales learned the trade of printer at the old Journal office on North Main street, Smith & Ironmonger being the proprietors. For thirty five years he worked at this trade, at one time or another being associated with practically every newspaper in Jacksonville.

Framed Monument Bill. It was Capt. Swales who was responsible for the framing and passage of the bill providing for the erection of a monument at Andersonville and very appropriately Governor Deneen appointed him one of the commissioners to represent the state when the monument was dedicated five years ago. For twelve years Capt. Swales by appointment of Governor Yates was in charge of the memorial hall at Springfield. The record he made gave ample proof that there was no mistake when he was selected from a list of 1245 applicants for the position.

Today Capt. Swales is serving his city and county as member of the county board and is evidencing a sincere desire to give careful attention to the interest of the people. It is a fact that Capt. Swales did not know his petition had been filed as a candidate until he saw the notice in the local papers. So he was nominated and elected because his many friends believed him competent, efficient and loyal. He is measuring up to these expectations and has the distinction of being the only Jacksonville citizen in the memory of man who has served on the county board.

Altho seventy-nine years have passed over Capt. Swales' head and his hair is sprinkled with gray, he is still mighty active in a physical way, just as vigorous as a man of fifty or sixty years. When it comes to mentality he is unchanged and he has the same high degree of intelligence that has marked the years of his life. A valuable and well beloved citizen is Capt. J. M. Swales.

FORMER RESIDENT KILLED IN RACE RIOT

William Johnson Reported Among Killed—Son Booker Johnson Fears It is His Father.

The Chicago Tribune on Wednesday carried the name of William Johnson, colored, among the killed in the rioting in Chicago. Booker Johnson of this city, whose father's name is William Johnson and who has been resident in Chicago for some time, received a letter stating that his father had been injured by being struck in the head with a brick. Since the item appearing in the Tribune carrying the name of William Johnson among the dead the son is naturally greatly worried as he has not been able to get any word from Chicago.

William Johnson was for many years one of the city's well known and highly respected colored residents. He was in the employ of the late William Brown for a long period.

SCHOOL QUESTIONS FOR PEOPLE TO DECIDE

MORE FUNDS MUST COME FROM SPECIAL TAXES OR BONDS.

M. F. Dunlap Suggests That Election Be Held To Give Board of Education Advantage of Public Opinion—Building Now Will Cost About Twice Estimate of Two Years Ago.

Why not let the people vote on the question of the desirability of building the High School at this time? Why not let them express opinions at an election as to the best plan for raising additional money required by taxation or bonds?

The board of education at a recent meeting rejected the bids for the proposed new high school building on the ground that the bids were so much higher than expected that it seemed advisable to postpone building operations.

The lowest Bids The lowest general bid was that of $289,000 by English Bros., of Champaign. There was only one local bidder on the general contract, S. G. Chumley, whose figure was $367,096. The heating and plumbing bids were separate and the lowest was that of Bernard Gause totaling $30,990.

These contracts were for the building, plumbing and heating without the general furnishings, which it was roughly estimated would cost between $30,000 and $40,000. In the course of the construction of such an extensive building the members of the board felt sure that other extra expenses would be incurred which would run the total cost of the building from $375,000 to $400,000.

Some board members felt that notwithstanding these figures that it would be wise to proceed with the building at this time, on the theory that the educational work of the pupils of the high school and the junior high school is being interfered with by the present arrangement of using the David Prince building for both schools. However, by a close vote it was decided to reject the bids.

A statement by the finance committee of the board shows the funds available for building to be about as follows: $63,000 from insurance; $100,000 from bonds; $35,000 from special levy making a total of $198,000. In addition to this sum a tax levy of $75.00 for building purposes for the next year has been agreed upon. Under the law the board could not have awarded the contract at the recent meeting without cutting out special features in the building or some part of the general contract for a board, it is understood, does not have the authority to let a contract calling for expenditures of money in excess of that for which provision has been made. Originally there was nearly $100,000 in the insurance fund and $50,000 in the repair fund. Money paid out for the heating plant; repairs and on anticipation warrants accounts for the difference.

Material Costs Higher There is a general understanding that the cost of building has increased in a very material way since the building was first projected and the public understands that a high school building now is necessarily going to cost considerably more than would have been true two years ago.

There are two ways by which the additional funds necessary for building can be secured: one by levying a special building tax and letting it accumulate for two or three years; the other, by the issuance of bonds. It was no doubt because of these possibilities and the general situation in which the board finds itself with relation to the contract that led M. F. Dunlap yesterday in conversation to make the suggestion noted above; that a good way to get at the wishes of the people would be to hold an election and submit the question to the voters.

Mr. Dunlap said: "As I understand the situation, the school board has available from insurance money, from bonds authorized and from the special tax levy of the present year, the sum of about $200,000 to pay for the construction of a building. "As I understand it, the lowest bid received Monday for the building, plumbing and heating was approximately $330,000. It is very apparent from the fact that the board two years ago asked for a bond issue of $100,000 that it was the expectation at that time that a high school building would cost a sum approximately equal to the $90,000 received from the insurance, the $100,000 from bonds, and the money available from a special tax levy for one year. Now it appears that this sum will not nearly provide for the building for which the plans and specifications call, and the figure of $330,000 already quoted does not include furnishings, and there would in all likelihood be some extras which would run the total cost of the building to $375,000 or $400,000.

Future Prices "In view of this fact it is in my mind not strange that the members of the board discussed at considerable length the advisability of awarding the contract at this time. While no man knows just what the future holds in the cost of materials, I am one of those who believe that this is a high time to build and that nothing would be lost by waiting a year with a strong probability of saving a considerable part of the people's money by this wait. The average private individual, confronted by the same proposition, would decide to get along with his present facilities and wait another year to note the possibility of lower material costs. If, as some people estimate, that a building deferred a year or two would likely save $100,000 of the people's money, it is certainly worthy of consideration. "Since it is apparent that the building is to cost so much more than was originally expected by sued, and since it is a matter of conjecture just what will happen in the course of the next year or two, if I were a member of the board I would be very much disposed to submit the question to the people for decision. This would of course be an advisory vote but would let the members of the board know exactly the wishes of the majority of their constituents. The board might readily submit two propositions to the people.

"First, should the board of education proceed with the erection of a high school building this year; second, in providing additional funds for the high school building shall the board ask for a bond issue or secure the money thru special tax levy running thru a period of several years.

Bonds Fair to All "If the building is to cost a considerable sum more than the insurance money and that available from bonds, it seems to me that it would be better for all concerned to issue bonds rather than to tax property so heavily for a three or four year period. Since the water project took definite form and gave assurance of successful completion there is no question but that there has been an advance in the value of city property.

"Because of the change in law made by the last legislature providing that taxes shall be based on an equalized value of one-half the assessed value instead of one-third of the assessed value, there is certain to be a higher city tax this year. If you add to this a special tax of $50.00 or $60.00 for building purposes in addition to the $75.00 or $80.00 desired for general educational purposes it is easy to understand how high city taxes are going to be in Jacksonville next year.

"Then to provide the sum which recent bids indicate is necessary for building purposes it would be necessary to carry this special tax for building purposes during two or three years until enough funds were accumulated to complete the building. It would seem to me as a much fairer and more business-like proposition to provide any additional funds necessary thru a bond issue, payable in probably twenty years, than it would be to tax these heavy costs against property owners simply during the next three or four years.

"Such heavy taxes would have the certain tendency of lowering real estate values, and that just at a time when property is taking on new life. It is also a fact that the law which provides that a board of education may levy a special tax for building and repair fund without a vote of the people does not contemplate that this money is to be used for new buildings. Its purpose is to provide a fund sufficient for keeping buildings in repair. So while it has been the custom sometimes for a board to so raise funds for a building fund, nevertheless the board by this practice does not carry out the purpose and spirit of the law.

Questions for the People "In these days it is quite a popular plan and one which seems to have commendation of putting such questions up to the people. So I say that if I were a member of the board I should feel that it would be an excellent plan to get the opinion of the public recorded on these propositions, as to whether or not the building should be erected now, and as to whether the fund should be provided thru bonds or the special tax method.

"This can be done by the board of education with comparatively little expense, for under the general law the board is given a considerable latitude in the matter of preparation for an election and the board members themselves serve as officials. So an election would cost a very insignificant sum and it would be well worth while for the board to have this accurate record of the people's wishes. "Should a majority of the people favor the plan of issuing bonds the board can follow this method, because only $100,000 of bonds have been authorized and the limit of bonds which can be issued for school purposes is approximately $300,000."

CALLS ATTENTION TO CHILDREN DRIVING CARS

Chief Kiloran and Ald. Cain, Chairman of the Police Committee, Call Attention to Law in Matter—Children Under Sixteen Years Not Allowed to Drive Cars.

Yesterday Chief of Police Kiloran and Ald. Cain, chairman of the police committee, called the attention of a Journal reporter to the law relative to children under sixteen years of age driving automobiles.

They were speaking of the accident which occurred between this city and Mercedia on last Sunday when a fifteen years old boy came near killing five occupants of a Ford car.

Both said that they had noticed in recent days a number of cars driven by children who apparently were not more than twelve or thirteen years old. The state law is specific in the matter. I says that no minor under sixteen years of age shall drive a car on the public highway unless accompanied by its parents or some other adult. The penalty is on the parents allowing such act, and is punishable by a heavy fine.

Chief Kiloran was of the opinion that it was not safe or sane for a boy or girl under sixteen years of age to drive a car even if accompanied by an adult. With so many cars in use it often requires quick judgment and more strength than is possessed by a child of that age to stop a car in an emergency.

Ald. Cain, chairman of the police committee said that strict orders had been given to the police to stop the driving of cars by minors under the age specified by the law. It will be rigidly enforced and the alderman said he hoped that parents who had been in the habit of letting their children drive cars would govern themselves accordingly and stop the practice, thus avoiding a fine and also perhaps heavy damages in case of an accident.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS HAVE INSTALLED LIBRARY

Harry Walker, Physical Director, Inaugurates Movement Which Results in Fine Collection of Books to Be Loaned to Boys.

A very popular feature of the Jacksonville Y. M. C. A. is the library which has recently been installed there. The movement for the library was begun at the suggestion of Harry Walker, physical director of the Y. and the boys entered so heartily into the idea that now they have more than a hundred and fifty books in the collection. The books are loaned out to the boys without limit as to the time they may be kept, but is a noticeable fact that it doesn't take the boys very long to read a book.

When the library plan first took shape there were a number of books at the Y. M. C. A. The boys themselves brought in a number of books and placed them in the collection. The owner's name and the title of the book were recorded and the owner was given the privilege of withdrawing the book from circulation at any time he desired. Among the books now in the library are a great many volumes of the Boy Scout travel books, and there are also many stories of camp life, in the jungles and in foreign lands.

It is hoped that a number of local people will be sufficiently interested in the movement to loan books of special interest to boys. The books will be taken care of and returned to their owners at any time desired. The interest and enthusiasm of the boys and their leader is such that the Y. M. C. A. library will undoubtedly be of constantly increasing interest and importance.

DEPARTMENT HAD TWO FIRE ALARMS

The department responded to two fire alarms Wednesday. The first was at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning when an alarm was sent in that the old dump on Franklin street near the brook was afire. The dump had been burning for several days. As no damage was likely to result the department did not use any water on the blaze.

At 9 o'clock an alarm was responded to from the residence of Joshua Gill, 227 West College street. A chimney had recently been rebuilt and evidently some bricks had dropped into the chimney stopping the draft. When a fire was started in the kitchen range the house became filled with smoke. No damage resulted.

SOLDIERS' DAY AT STATE FAIR AUGUST 20TH

Free Admission for All War Veterans — Special Features Planned for the Day.

Springfield, Ill., July 29.—In a proclamation issued today, Gov. Frank O. Lowden declares a free gate for all war veterans at the Illinois State Fair on Wednesday, August 20, when a Victory and Old Soldiers' Day celebration will be held. Veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World War are invited to be the guests of the state at the fair on that day.

The governor calls attention to the similarity of purpose of the soldiers in all three wars and urges the veterans to unite in a great Victory Day observance here.

The management of the state fair is preparing an elaborate program for this occasion. Among the speakers at a meeting which will be held on the fair grounds during the morning will be Col. Clarendon E. Adams of Lincoln, Neb., commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic; William Jones, of New York, commander in chief of the United Spanish War Veterans and either Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., or Archie Roosevelt, representing the World War Veterans. Governor Lowden will preside.

The Governor's proclamation is as follows: "For almost half a century the Illinois State Fair has been free one day a year to the veterans of the Civil War, who fought in order that 'government of the people, by the people and for the people' should not perish from the earth."

Fewer in number, but also entitled to gratitude are the veterans of the Spanish-American war, who fought in the sacred cause of humanity. There now are added to the dwindling numbers of these veterans the thousands of America's brave soldiers returning from the greatest war of history. These men who have fought for and preserved for America and all the world, the sacred rights their fathers had won and defended from Lexington to San Juan Hill. They return victorious.

"The Illinois Fair is a State Institution operated by and for the people of Illinois. It affords an opportunity for the State to extend official recognition of the service of these veterans of three wars.

"Therefore, at the request and with the approval of the Department of Agriculture, I hereby designate Wednesday, August 20, Victory and Old Soldiers' Day at the Illinois State Fair. On that day the gates will be thrown open to all veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World War, and they will be admitted free of charge. Appropriate exercises in honor of the men and their achievements will be held during the morning. They will be given an opportunity to enjoy the attractions of the Fair throughout the day.

"It is the urgent desire of the management of the Fair that veterans take advantage of this invitation to be the guests of the State."

REQUEST BAKER TO SELL SURPLUS FOOD

WASHINGTON, July 29.—After an all day wrangle, the house tonight adopted a resolution reported out by the war investigating committee requesting Secretary Baker to place on sale without delay surplus food products held by the war department and valued at $120,000,000.

The vote on the resolution was 266 to 4 and was taken after the house had rejected 160 to 114, a substitute resolution offered by Democrat members of the committee providing that the secretary be requested to put on the market such part of the surplus as is reasonably capable of being distributed and sold and providing for a sales organization at government expense.

With this substitute out of the way the house adopted, 152 to 130, an amendment by Representative Kelly, Republican, Pennsylvania, directing that the distribution be thru the parcel post. A point of order against this amendment by Chairman Graham, of the war investigating committee in charge of the legislation was overruled.

The chairman was outwardly hostile to the amendment, but it seemed to meet popular favor on the Democratic side. When the vote was announced the Democrats applauded, some of them openly jeering the opposition because of its failure to get the resolution thru without amendment. After fighting all day and failing to rally votes enough for their substitute presented as a part of the minority report the Democrats supported the selling plan and it was adopted, by roll call with a chorus of ayes.

Miss Alice Gunn of west of the city expects to leave today for an extended visit in Chicago.

Ladies' 1919 Fall Styles Varied

Hand Embroidered Suits

Accordion Pleated Skirts

Fur Trimmed Dolman Coats

Jersey Silk Dresses

Says "Dame Fashion"

Greater varieties and more extensive selections for ladies' suits, dresses and wraps, will be afforded this coming Fall Season than in many years past, according to our Mr. Green who has returned from a ten day visit to New York and Chicago.

According to Dame Fashion's strongest mandate fine hand embroidery will play a leading part, skirts will continue narrow and coats will be a trifle longer.

The suit materials most favored will be broadcloths, woolens and tricelines, while the jersey silk will be the most favored dress material.

Semi-tailored suits in straight line effects will enjoy a great popularity. The better suits will carry hand embroidered trimmings and braidings.

Dolman coats, fur trimmed, will be much sought after, the furs used this fall in all trimmings being the darker lines, there being no call for the formerly popular greys.

The accordion pleated skirt, with Mexican belt, will be a favorite, as also will be the prettily embroidered skirt with short slit on one side.

The Fall Season now is but a short distance in the future and we suggest to the ladies of Jacksonville and vicinity an early call to see what we have to offer and talk over the question with us. This is particularly desirable where special designing is wanted.

Aside from being an expert cutter and fitter of ladies' suits and dresses, our Mr. Green is an adept in original designs and in carrying out the ideas of our patrons. This special work requires a great deal of time, hence our request that ladies give the matter of fall clothes early consideration.

SHOWERS LOWER CORN PRICES

Fresh Moisture Tends Materially to Relieve the Corn Crop.

Chicago, July 30.—Many showers and a prospect of numerous others did much today to bring about lower prices in the corn market. Except for July which showed a net gain of 1 1/2 c the market finished weak, at 1 1/4 to 2 1/2 c net decline, with September $1.95 1/4 to $1.95 1/2 and December $1.68 to $1.69 1/4. Oats lost 1/4 to 1/2 c. In provisions the outcome ranged from a setback of 45c to 5c advance.

Fresh moisture supplied to parts of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, and the northwest tended materially to relieve the condition of the corn crop. Houses with country connections did most of the selling. The only pronounced rally was confined to the July delivery. Oats eased down mainly in sympathy with corn. Both cereals continued to be depressed in some degree by the race riots and car strike here. Provisions were dull and irregular.

HEAVY SELLING LOWERS STOCKS

Many Shares Which Usually Govern Course of Market Heavy and Occasionally Weak.

New York, July 30.—Stocks were subjected to widely conflicting influences today creating heaviness and occasional weakness in many of the shares which usually govern the course of the market.

Prices were 1 to 12 points higher at the outset the step division leading on the excellent quarterly statement issued by the U. S. Steel Corporation. Heavy selling, which immediately followed gave the market a setback of 2 to 6 points before noon. Substantial recoveries were made but only in a few important instances was the reversal of the morning entirely overcome. Aside from the strength of a few specialties in which the maneuvers of pools and cliques were again more or less effective notably tobacco, paper and leather issues, moderate losses prevailed at the close. Sales amounted to 1,300,000 shares.

Unsettled in exchange on Paris, which approximated its minimum quotation caused variable reactions in sterling, lines and the Swiss rate but Scandinavian remittances were comparatively steady.

Weakness of local traction and a slight setback in international featured the irregular bond market. Total sales (par value) aggregated $13,550,000.
